

How to Tablet a Cat without Being Scratched to Pieces!

Either restrain your cat by having another person hold both forelegs from behind, or wrap your cat firmly in a towel leaving only the head out and have your helper hold your cat in the towel.

Hold the tablet between your thumb and forefinger.

Hold the top of your cat's head by grasping either side of the top jaw. Once the nose is pointing directly towards the sky, the jaw naturally opens slightly.

With the other hand which has the tablet in it, open the lower jaw and insert the tablet using your index finger to push it towards the back of the throat.

If you suspect your cat has not swallowed it hold their mouth shut and raise their head slightly while stroking their throat.

The tongue licking their nose is often a sign the tablet has been swallowed.
